Safety and Etiquette

A snowmobile is as safe as the person operating it. Safe operation includes knowledge of the machine, awareness of backcountry hazards, emergency preparedness and common courtesy.

Leave a trip itinerary with someone and report upon your return. This should include where you are riding for the day and time of expected return, make/model of your vehicle, number of group members, what safety and communication equipment you carry, including radio channel.

- Travel in pairs (the "buddy system") and never ride alone
- Always carry a form of communication (two-way radios, GPS locator device, satellite phone) if you don't, when you need it, you will wish you did
- Respect other user groups and help them when in need
- Alcohol and snowmobiles don't mix, save it for back at the hotel
- Please demonstrate good manners by using common sense and respecting the interests of others
- Know and obey all riding area restrictions and boundaries
- There are downloadable files on the Valemount Area Recreation Development Association (VARDA) website to help with this Ridevalemount.com
- GARBAGE SUCKS. Pack out what you pack in!

Support your local riding area by purchasing a membership of the local club. This is much more important than you may think.

Remember to ride prepared

Carry all necessary avalanche equipment (transceiver, shovel, probe), flares, water-proof matches, wind-proof lighter, hot packs, salt, sugar, high energy bars, rope, wire, tape, extra gloves and socks, space blanket, flint strikers, water, good first aid kit, communication (cell or sat phone, Inreach), GPS, Leatherman tool, saw, headlamp, spare batteries, signal mirror, bag of toilet paper, whistle, tea, pencil and paper, small stove tool kit; these are just a few items you may need.

Remember, you are a LONG ways from help if something goes wrong and there is no guarantee that someone can come to your aid in a short amount of time.

A little preparation can go a long way in an emergency situation or make a long night on the mountain much more comfortable.

Valemount offers the real winter experience. Valemount is the base for supreme alpine snowmobiling. Open areas, deep powder, and great views will energize you and bring out the best of every snowmobiler. Groomed trails provide access to the most spectacular alpine riding areas in Clemina, Allan Creek and Chappell Creek.

Outdoor enthusiasts will find here good cross-country skiing, and some of the finest snowcat-skiing and backcountry skiing. Valemount is home to Crystal Ridge, the only snowmobile assisted ski/snowboard facility in the world.

Of course, the Valemount area also offers world-renowned heli-skiing options in the Cariboo Mountains. One can even venture deep into the heart of the Rockies behind a team of friendly sled dogs. You will experience snow capped forests, frozen waterfalls, and icy rivers in a magnificent mountain setting. You can even go ice fishing and afterwards “chill” with your friends for a drink and dinner in a cozy restaurant. Valemount provides excellent service in spite of its small population—more than 500 rooms in hotels, motels, and B&Bs.

Sledding in Valemount

If you are looking for the ultimate ride, then you'll want to include Valemount in your winter vacation plans this year. The quiet, picturesque Village of Valemount is the hub of the Cariboo, Monashee, and Rocky Mountains, and is the best base you can have for your snowmobiling adventure. Valemount is known throughout North America as one of the world's best environments for mountain snowmobiling and wilderness backcountry adventure(s). Valemount boasts world-class alpine snowmobiling and offers challenges for the biggest and best snowmobiles and the most experienced riders. Winter in Valemount typically begins in mid-November and ends in April. Spring riding, however, may continue into May and early June. December through March offers the best mountain conditions and usually provides fresh deep-powder snow for everyone to enjoy.

Valemount has four managed snowmobile areas where trail passes are required, with groomed trails that access the incredible alpine snowmobiling terrain. It also boasts many other riding area opportunities for the more hardcore adventure seekers.

The area's vast backcountry offers some of the most scenic riding areas in the interior mountain ranges of central British Columbia. Riding through deep powder snow above the tree line in beautiful, rugged mountain terrain is the most exhilarating sledding adventure one can enjoy.

While offering challenges for even the most experienced riders, the many groomed trails and logging roads give novice riders the chance to experience the same spectacular scenery and alpine riding. There are also family trails that offer a little something for all levels of riders. For first-time mountain riders, a guided tour is an option that will allow you to get to know the area safely.

The Valemount area has received many awards and accolades for being B.C.'s favourite snowmobiling area, and the Village of Valemount is a full-service community that goes out of its way to cater to sledders. If you want to ride some great mountains and feel at home when visiting, Valemount is the hot spot to plan your next winter vacation.

Valemount has become a very popular snowmobiling destination for many reasons. First for its sunny weather, second for its abundance of deep, powdery snow, and third for its varying terrain. That's why sledders are eager to return each year. Whether you are a beginner hoping to see some of the magnificent scenery Valemount has to offer or a thrill-seeker looking to climb high into the alpine, Valemount should be on the top of your list for places to visit.

For more information contact the Valemount Area Recreation Development Association (VARDA) at 250.566.4817 or visit Ridevalemount.com. The website also provides downloadable GPS boundary files of the more popular riding areas.

Upper Westridge and Lower Family Loop

Cabin GPS Location: Lat. 52.825161 Lon. -119.347285

The Lower Family loop area is great for socked-in days or for a relaxed, casual and enjoyable ride or family outing. The area is accessed by turning right off of the highway at the first intersection just south of town (3.5 km); then follow the road until you reach an open parking area at the beginning of the Westridge Forest Service Road.

A main family loop will bring you back to the parking lot and will pass a little warming cabin, roughly half way through the loop. Follow the FSR for approximately 10 km until you see a directional sign that guides you off of the main FSR. Follow this road for another few km before it ends and puts you back onto the old snowmobile trail again. Once on the trail again, it will take you through the trees, passing the little warm-up shelter and back to the valley bottom. That is the main "Family Loop" but over the recent years, the area has been heavily logged, and this has created some great low-level terrain to play in on bad weather days. At times, this area can be closed due to logging activities so please check the website prior to planning any trips.

Check out the VARDA website to download a GPS file of the trail. There are many trails to explore; however, this area is rarely groomed. The Lower Westridge is ideal for beginner riding. There is intermittent cell phone service available on the trail.

The area known as Upper Westridge holds some amazing alpine riding, but access is more for the intermediate rider. This area is accessed via the same staging area as the Family Loop. You follow the powerline over the CMH road and follow for 6 km, then you will turn right onto a steep single track trail. This will lead you to an alpine play area with a series of alpine bowls and spectacular scenery.

Please visit Ridevalemount.com for more information.

Clemina

Base Elevation: 1,676 m (5,500 ft)

Top Elevation: 2,438 m (8,000 ft)

Cabin GPS Location: Lat. 52.530007 Lon. -118.924382

A favourite of many visitors to the area, Clemina—with its spectacular scenery and diverse terrain—has something for everyone and is highly recommended to the first-timer to Valemount. A large parking lot is located 30 km south of Valemount on the east side of Highway 5. A beautiful 24-km groomed trail will take you to a subalpine warming shelter. After riding another kilometer down the groomed trail, you will reach the Goat Ridge Bowl alpine areas, which offer spectacular scenery. This is a VARDA managed area with a regularly groomed trail, maintained cabin and outhouse facility. Clemina is an excellent family area where beginners can travel via a groomed trail to alpine terrain. Riders of all skill levels can find suitable play areas. A $25/day trail fee is required and can be purchased at the trail head (cash only). This area does have a closure in the Dixon Glacier. Please respect and obey all posted signs and refrain from riding in the plantations.

Keyhole

Base Elevation: 1,676 m (5,500 ft)

Top Elevation: 2,438 m (8,000 ft)

A smaller area with skate park-like terrain, Keyhole is accessed from the Clemina parking area 30 km south of Valemount on the east side of Highway 5. Please ask at the booth for directions from the parking area if you are unsure of where to go. There is a 9-km long groomed trail leading up to the alpine from the Clemina parking area. The trail in can be easily ridden by beginner riders, although the last kilometer is a single track trail through the trees that can be a bit tricky at times. There is no cabin or outhouse in the alpine area. A $25/day trail fee is required and can be purchased at the trail head (cash only).

Allan Creek

Base Elevation: 1,676 m (5,500 ft)

Top Elevation: 2,286 m (7,500 ft)

Cabin GPS location: Lat. 52.576729 Lon. -119.160577

Cell service available at

Mt Milton GPS coordinates: Lat. 52.577228 Lon. -119.160908 and intermittently throughout the riding area with an open site line to the east.

Allan Creek is one of the largest riding areas located near Valemount and is usually the first area to open each year. There is gentle family riding area at the end of the groomed trail system as soon as you enter the alpine. The far-off terrain will certainly please every level of rider. At the end of the 9-km long groomed trail, you will find our newest emergency shelter built during the summers of 2018 and 2019.

Venturing beyond the meadows and play areas near the end of the groomed trail, riders will be introduced to an endless system of bowls, meadows and amazing alpine terrain. The varying terrain of Allan Creek makes it a favorite for riders of all experience levels.

The trail head parking lot to Allan Creek is located 36 km south of Valemount on the west side of Highway 5. There is a 9-km long, regularly groomed trail with fast elevation gain to the alpine. This is a VARDA managed trail, with an alpine shelter and outhouse facility. A $25/day trail fee is required and can be purchased at the trail head (cash only).

Allan Creek is a caribou sensitive area. Please follow area boundaries, encourage other riders to do the same and report any witnessed infractions to the drop box in the parking area. A GPS file of the area boundaries can be downloaded from VARDA's website Ridevalemount.com.

Chappell Creek

Base Elevation: 1,828 m (6,000 ft)

Top Elevation: 2,438 m (8,000 ft)

Valemount's prize jewel, Chappell Creek can boast some of the best snow levels in the valley. There is a large parking area and trailhead 58 km south of Valemount on the west side of Highway 5. Chappell's alpine area—with its gentle meadows and bowls—is a powder snow lover's dream. Chappell Creek is a great location to take newer riders as it is primarily made up of gentle low angle terrain that can be enjoyed by all skill levels

The area is the smallest of the VARDA managed areas but never ceases to please and produces some amazing snow levels. The groomed scenic access trail is 26 km long with a fast elevation gain in the last 3 km. While this is a VARDA managed area, there is no warming hut or outhouse in the alpine riding area. A $25/day trail fee is required and can be purchased at the trail head.

Chappell Creek is a caribou sensitive area. Please follow area boundaries, encourage other riders to do the same, and report any witnessed infractions to the drop box in the parking area. A GPS file of the area boundaries can be downloaded from VARDA's website Ridevalemount.com.

Avalanche Safety

The safety of backcountry users is extremely important to the Valemout Area Recreation Development Association (VARDA) and the Valemout community. The managed snowmobile area trailheads hold BCA Transceiver Checkers to promote proper use of avalanche transceivers.

A Transceiver Training Station is located next to the cabin in Clemina Creek throughout the winter where visitors can hone their searching skills.

The Allan and Clemina Creek Warming Cabins now hold SPOT LOCATOR Beacons that can be taken and used in the event of a serious medical emergency to request help and alert the proper agencies of the incident location. These extremely unique safety items are supplied for you by Whisper Creek Log Homes and VARDA.

10 Commandments for Mountain Snowmobilers

- Know the current avalanche forecast for the area of your trip.
- Have a plan for your trip, and choose terrain based on the avalanche forecast. The higher the avalanche danger, the simpler the terrain should be.
- Have a 'Plan B' for simpler terrain if avalanche conditions are at all questionable. If in doubt, always choose simpler terrain.
- Ensure everyone in your group has a properly working avalanche transceiver, shovel, and probe on their person, and knows how to use it.
- Only allow one person on the hill at a time.
- Watch or gather in safe areas only, never in avalanche run out zones or terrain traps.
- Always pay attention to snow conditions and the terrain above you as you move through areas.
- If crossing an avalanche path, expose only one person at a time.
- Gather frequently in safe areas, and discuss your route and observations.
- If you see others in unsafe situations, speak up.

Info courtesy of Avalanche Canada: [Avalanche.ca]

Some questions to think about before heading into the backcountry:

- Did I check the avalanche bulletin this morning?
- What were the major messages?
- Given the current conditions, am I comfortable with the area I chose to ride in today?
- Am I comfortable with my trip companions?
- Are they trained?
- Have they practiced?
- Do my companions have the skill and training to use their equipment in the event of an emergency?
- Have we completed an equipment and transceiver check before heading up the trail?

General Manager's Message

It is exciting and inspiring to see the work that VARDA has accomplished over its lifetime. VARDA is an association led by a group of local volunteers, who have protected and enhanced Valemount's public winter recreation opportunities since 2004 and long before that, as the Timberline Snowgoers snowmobile club.

As our original mission statement (created back in 2004) predicts, we have built on the success of the winter recreation and are now working to develop Valemount further towards a sought after, year-round recreation destination. Looking around our little village these days, I believe we have been successful. There is a local buzz in Valemount now and we are truly being considered a four-season destination.

While VARDA is now working on developing and promoting other activities such as our very popular Mountain Bike Park, snowmobiling is and always will be the main focus of our efforts and it certainly comes with its challenges. Snowmobiling is crucial to Valemount's winter economy and also a big part of the history of Valemount. To continue to be successful, we need to be professional, responsible, vigilant, cooperative, hardworking and resourceful. When I look at the people around me that help guide this association, these are the traits I see in those at the table and for that I am grateful.

It's not just those on the ground that make VARDA what it is. It takes a lot of resources to do what we do, and it would not be possible without the support we receive from our sponsors, advocates and friends. Take a few moments to read about the great people that help support your favorite pastimes. Please support our sponsoring businesses whenever possible and make it clear why you choose them. Cooperation and long-term partnerships are our keys to success.

VARDA staff are always here to help and are just a phone call or email away. If you have any questions regarding Valemount and the surrounding area, we would love to hear from you. Get outside, take only memories and leave only tracks!

Curtis Pawliuk, General Manager, VARDA

Want to show your support? Stay informed?

"Pack It In - Pack It Out"
Garbage SUCKS. If you can carry it in, you can carry it out. Be a good human and pack out your stuff. The backcountry motto remains the same as in the summer.

A unique winter experience awaits those with a sense of adventure! Experience the thrill of dogsledding in the Rocky Mountains with Cold Fire Creek Dogsledding!

Let your team of 6-8 Alaskan Huskies lead you through a snowy winter wonderland past frozen waterfalls, snow laden timbers and breathtaking panoramic views.

Your adventure doesn't end there. Depending on how long of an excursion you decide to embark on, you may be invited to warm your hands over a crackling fire and share your tales of adventure over a hot drink and a campfire lunch. The trail meanders alongside a freezing river and takes you up and down approximately 1,000 vertical feet of elevation along a 100-year-old trap line. Drive your own team of sled dogs or simply snuggle in the sled and soak up the incredible scenery.

Tours range from one hour to an overnight excursion. For more information call 877.295.8505 or visit Cfdogsledding.com.

Crystal Ridge: Sled Assisted Skiing

Valemount is home to the only snowmobile assisted ski/boarding facility in the world.

Powerboarding or sled assisted skiing has been growing rapidly over the last few years and is becoming a popular activity for the backcountry boarder or skier. The Powerboarders, a local group of volunteers, had the idea for the sled assisted ski/board area project a few years ago. The Valemount and Area Recreation Development Association (VARDA) has worked with this group to see this dream come to reality.

Crystal Ridge consists of 6 runs, each boasting a vertical drop of approx. 670 m (2,200 ft).

The area is accessed from the Westridge staging area, which is located approximately 3.5 km south of the Valemount Visitor Centre (take your first right off the highway after the Best Western and follow the main road for approximately 1.5 km until you reach the staging area on your right).

A 13-km long access trail leads to a junction point where the 4-km long up-track begins. There are no mandatory user fees in affect at this time although we ask users to please use the donation box located on the main sign in the staging area to help fund the grooming program. The up-track will take you to the designated drop off points for each of the runs. The closest relative to this type of activity would be downhill mountain-biking where riders take turns shuttling each other up the mountain.

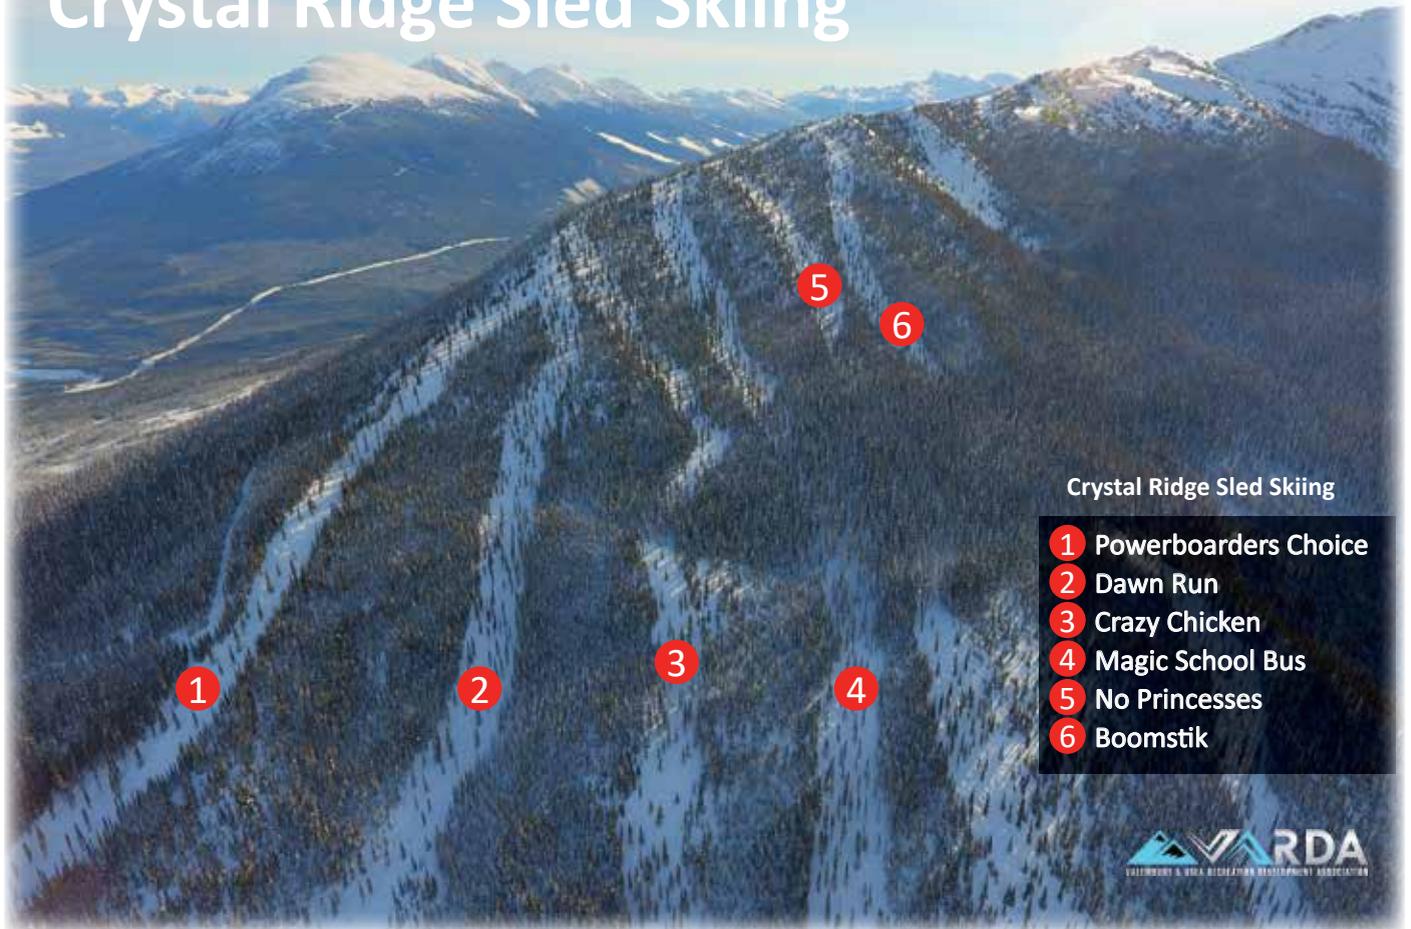

VARDA is proud to have created a one of a kind recreation area right on Valemount's door step. Crystal Ridge provides new recreational winter opportunities for locals and visitors alike. For more information on this unique facility, please visit VARDA's website Ridevalemount.com.
