Kinbasket Lake

Located just minutes from the community of Valemount

➤ HOW TO GET THERE – From Valemount, proceed south on Yellowhead Highway 5 for 3km, then turn east onto Cedarside Road towards Kinbasket Lake. Continue onto Canoe East Forest Service Road/Canoe River Forest Rd for 21km and then turn right onto the 400m site access road to the Canoe Reach Marina. Caution: may be industrial traffic.

VISITORS TAKE NOTE – Kinbasket is actually a large hydroelectric reservoir that was created from the building of the Mica Dam. It extends from Valemount to the Golden area, and water levels can dramatically rise and fall from season to season. The waters greatly recede during the winter and then rise in the late spring reaching its highest levels in late summer.

Designated campgrounds are found at Yellowjacket (18Km), Griffin Sawmill (19.5km), Horse Creek (20.5km), and The Canoe Reach Marina (21km). Check out the camping section of the guide for more details on these beautiful recreation camping sites.

Rearguard Falls

AMENITIES – pit toilets, accessible

➤ HOW TO GET THERE – Located on Highway 16 towards Mount Robson and the Alberta Border. Approximately 18 minutes from Valemount BC.

This provincial park features beautiful waterfalls that are formed as the mighty Fraser River flows over the ledge to the bottom. The river flows east emerging into the Rocky Mountain Trench near the community of Tete Jaune Cache where it continues on meandering through most of British Columbia towards the Pacific Ocean. After spending a few years in the ocean, the Chinook salmon follow this path upstream to the waters where they were hatched to begin the life cycle.

Rearguard Falls can be seen by taking a short hike along a path with flights of stairs that have metal handrails, down to a viewing deck. In autumn, (August to September) you may see returning Chinook salmon trying to leap over the falls to reach the gravel above to lay their eggs in. For the salmon that manage to make it to the base of the falls, this big leap will mark the end of their long 1300 km journey.

Valemount Marina

- East Canoe 23km

Yearly family fishing derby
Labour Day weekend!

George Hicks Regional Park

AMENITIES – pit toilets, picnic tables, wheel chair accessible

➤ HOW TO GET THERE – Located just down from the Visitor Centre off of Hwy 5, this regional park has interpretive signage, an accessible bridge and a platform with vantage points for viewing the Chinook salmon run. The Chinook are the largest and strongest of the Pacific salmon species. They swim over 1,300 km up the Fraser River to return to Swift Creek to spawn from August to September. They can range in size from 6 kg (14 pounds) to 25 kg (55 pounds). Here, you can see the females dig nests, referred to as redds, in the creek bed to lay their eggs. The males, once chosen, fertilize them.

Due to increased natural disasters and low water levels, numbers of returning Chinook have dwindled down over the years. Through the good work of the Simpcw Nation Fishery and partners such as the Spruce City Wildlife Association, a release of up to 20,000 Chinook fry is done annually in May or early June at Swift Creek. This event is open to the public and participants are given an opportunity to name and release a salmon into the creek.

When near creeks and rivers, it is vital to the salmon population that one observes respectfully and safely from a distance.

- Stay out of the creeks and rivers.
- Do not interfere with the fish or cause them to swim away from their nest. They have come a long way and as they no longer are eating at this point, they need their energy to be able to complete their life cycle of laying and fertilizing their eggs.
- Keep children out of the water.
- Please do not throw rocks or other items at the fish.
- Pack in pack out when out exploring the trails, and back country. Let's all work together to keep the water channels clean and safe for future generations.
- Share the story of the salmon.
- Learn more by visiting the interpretive signs at the park, and the information centre which is open year round. Check the events calendar at www.visitvalemount.ca for upcoming salmon talks.

Valemount Museum

➤ LOCATION– 1090 Main Street, behind the Valemount Public Library

Open May to September. Travel back in time through the stories, images, and writings of the elders and pioneers of the region. This building, which was once the original Swift Creek Station, was built in 1914 and was relocated in 1927 to the side of the railway tracks on what is now Main Street. There, it served as the Valemount Station until 1981, when it was purchased for $1 by the Valemount Historic Society and moved to it's current location. Visitors to the museum can also find information about the Japanese internment camps that were in the area during World War 2.

Spend some time in the kitchen and basement to learn about lifestyles of the people who were here many years ago.

Explore the Railroad Room, which has a model train. Be sure to check out the restored caboose outside, and the forest service look out tower. While visiting the museum, ask about the Historic Hikes Geocache guide, compiled by the Valemount Historic Society.

War Heroes Museum

➤ LOCATION– Royal Canadian Legion Branch #266, Main Street

Open Sunday mornings 8:30 am to 10:00 am, and on Remembrance Day, November 11th

On the 21st of November 1950, tragedy struck when a troop train carrying members of the 2nd Regiment Royal Canadian Horse Artillery bound for Fort Lewis, Washington, collided head on with the eastbound “Continental,” the Vancouver to Montreal passenger train. The engines and leading coaches of both trains derailed and the forward cars of the troop train were thrown over an embankment and destroyed. There were no passenger casualties on the Continental; however, there was a heavy toll to the ranks of the troop train. 17 members of the 2RCHA and the 4 CN crew members from the two trains perished in the wreck.

View the monument given in dedication to the community members who bravely came to the aid of those who were injured in the train accident, that is on display on the grounds of the Legion and War Heroes Museum. The War Heroes Museum is home to a collection of pictures, uniforms, medals, and stories from members of the Legion and their families. Discover displays recording some of the history of the Boer War, the first and second World Wars, the Korean War and from recent Peace Keepers missions.

EXPLORE OUR WILDSIDE

British Columbia is known for its diverse wildlife, and you can often spot different types of animals while driving on highways, when out on the trails, and exploring the backcountry.

- 1 MOOSE— These large, majestic animals are found in many areas of British Columbia, and they are often seen near water sources such as rivers and lakes.
- 2 BLACK BEARS— Black bears are common throughout the province, and they can often be seen foraging for food along the side of the road.
- 3 GRIZZLY BEARS— These large bears are less common than black bears, but they can be found in the mountain ranges and have been spotted along forest service roads and local trails.
- 4 DEER— Both mule deer and white-tailed deer can be found in British Columbia, and they are often seen grazing along the side of the road.
- 5 COYOTES— These adaptable animals are found throughout the region, often seen hunting in fields and meadows.
- 6 WOLVES— While less common than coyotes, wolves can also be seen in some areas around the community.
- 7 BIG HORNED SHEEP— These sure-footed animals are found in the mountains of the region, and they can sometimes be seen on steep slopes near the highway.
- 8 FOX— Although they can be shy and have a more nocturnal nature, foxes can be seen during the day along roadsides and on some trails.
- 9 CARIBOU— The mountain caribou are protected species in British Columbia. When out adventuring in the back country, please follow the guidelines and keep out of closed areas. If you see caribou while exploring these areas, keep a minimum distance of at least one kilometer away. Do not approach, chase, or bother them. For more information on closed area boundaries, go to: <https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/sports-culture/recreation/motor-vehicle-prohibitions/snowmobiling-in-bc/snowmobile-closures>.

Here are some tips for staying safe while enjoying the natural beauty of British Columbia:

BE AWARE OF YOUR SURROUNDINGS: When hiking or camping, be aware of your surroundings and keep an eye out for wildlife. Make noise as you move through the wilderness to alert animals to your presence.

CARRY BEAR SPRAY: Bear spray is a non-lethal deterrent that can be used to stop an aggressive bear from attacking.

STORE FOOD PROPERLY: When camping, store food in a bear-proof container or hang it from a tree at least 100 meters from your sleeping area.

KEEP A SAFE DISTANCE: Never approach wildlife, and always give them plenty of space. Keep at least 100 meters away from bears and 30 meters away from other large animals.

TRAVEL IN GROUPS: When possible, travel in a group. This will make you less vulnerable to animal attacks, and will increase your chances of being heard by wildlife.

FOLLOW PARK REGULATIONS: Follow all park regulations and posted signs.

EDUCATE YOURSELF: Learn about the wildlife in the area you will be visiting and educate yourself about their behaviour and habitat.

Allan and Chappell Creek are two of Valemount's main winter riding areas and they are surrounded by wildlife restrictions. Report all wildlife conflicts to the BC Conservation Officer Service RAPP line at 1-877-952-7277.

Valemount is home to some of the best mountain bike trails in BC and is quickly becoming the favourite destination of many riders.

The trails are the pride and joy of many in the Valemount community. As cliché as it sounds, the trail system has a bit of something for everyone. Our notoriety began due to our abundance of downhill flow style options, although over the last few years we have added some exceptional cross country and all mountain options, as well as some more technical alternatives.

If you haven't visited our trail system yet, you are missing out on something special! For up-to-date information on the trails check out www.ridevalemount.ca

1. CBT's Munday Grind ■

A beautiful machine-made climbing trail with roughly 12km of meandering ascent consisting of moderate grades with a few steep sections to get you grinding all the way to the top. The trail has exit options every 3 km at all major trail staging areas.

2. Inversion ●

A hand-made cross-country trail that is suitable for intermediate riders. For novice riders this may feel like a beginner downhill ride; for intermediate riders this may feel more like a cross country ride.

3. Mid DH Access or Exit ●

Used to access the middle of the downhill trails including Tinfoil Hat, Andreas' downhill and Stump Town. This can also be used as an early or emergency exit from the downhill trails.

4. Andreas' Downhill ◆

An old school, hand-made, fall line based downhill trail for advanced/expert riders. Steep and very rooty. This trail parallels the Tinfoil Hat downhill with multiple intersections so you can play a bit of "choose your own adventure" and mix things up a bit if you like.

5. Tinfoil Hat ■

One of the OG's. An intermediate level, downhill mountain bike trail. All jumps are tabletops and any drops or harder lines have ride-arounds to avoid the obstacles.

6. Swift Creek ■

This is more designed for hiking although bikes are allowed. Swift Creek is a hand built old-school cross-country trail.

7. Southern Traverse ●

A new school rolling cross-country trail. Accessed via the main Swift Creek entrance at 1 km up 5-Mile Road. To get in and out will require the use of the other trails.

8. Bucket Head Connector ●

This is a short connector trail. It allows downhill riders to utilize some of the flow of the Southern Traverse while making their way back to the staging area.

9. Inorout ●

This trail is used to enter or exit the Southern Traverse or the Tech Zone. It can also be considered a great beginner downhill when mixed with the upper section of Truck Yeah and finished with the Ale Trail.

10. Tech Zone ■

This chain of 2.5 loops, situated in a small area, provides some technically challenging trails. Frequent and often dramatic changes in elevation combined with rock create a superb environment to get the legs burning.

11. Ale Trail ●

Accessed off the climb out of the Tech Zone or south end of the Southern Traverse, this fast and flowy section of trail acts as another option to exit or enter the trail system.

12. High Roller ◆

One of the nicest jump lines in BC outside of a commercial facility. Beginning at an elevation of over 1,500 m, this feature rich line is close to 1 km long, boasting some unique options and over 20 jumps.

13. Bacon by NDI ■

Designed to be the ultimate integration of all the various bicycle handling skills, Bacon is a low risk, downhill trail which users of variable levels can use to develop their skills. 2 km of berms, rollers and manageable jumps will flow you to the lower staging area.

14. Connect the Dots ●

A simple and easy pedal friendly trail that gets users from the DH trails over to the Bacon, Womp Rat and Downflow entrances.

15. Devil's Gulch ◆

A short rake 'n' ride that is steep and loamy. Accesses this trail just off Connect the Dots. This short but sweet section is another option to spit you out onto the new Stump Town trail.

16. Stump Town ■

Stumptown is a flowy, downhill option filled with moderate hits and huge berms. This trail ends on the 5-Mile access road and the entrance to Moby Dick is just across the road.

17. Turducken ◆

This downhill trail is a feature rich 2.5-km adrenaline rush. More advanced than the Tin Foil Hat, this trail is full of hits, berms and flow with a tad bit of tech thrown in.

18. Northern Traverse ■

A beautiful, new school rolling cross-country trail. Can also be traveled north to south via access off Main Street, just north of the Swift Creek bridge.

19. Provincial Down ●

One of the OG trails. A hand-made old school downhill trail. Access is midway down the Bacon Trail.

20. Moby Dick ■

This bermy new school trail consists of ladder drops, wall rides and the namesake “Whale Tail” feature. This is one of the most popular trails in the entire network. All features have ride-arounds and can be easily avoided.

21. Coaster ◆

A fast and tight hand built downhill trail featuring beautiful cedar “roller coaster” type bridges and tight dropping turns. This trail terminates at the Bacon staging area.

22. Stinger ■

An intermediate level trail that is different from the rest of the flowy trails in our inventory. Steeper, more natural trail surfaces with rock work and some technical features.

23. Trap Line ●

This is a great option for newer riders looking to develop the skills needed for some of the more advanced trails in the network.

24. Stump Connector ■

A hand-built trail that allows access to Stump Town from the Bacon staging area.

25. Hula Dancer ■

Our newest trail offers another option of the very top of the network. Blue flow at its finest. Full of berms and manageable hits that make you want to go back for more.

26. Firebreak ◆

Firebreak is an advanced downhill trail with an “old school” feeling. Aimed as close to the fall line as deemed sustainable, your brakes will certainly be hating you after you drop into this trail.

27. Downflow ■

Downflow is short but oh so sweet. Originally envisioned as a simple connector trail to link up the Bacon staging area with the Moby Dick trailhead, this short section of trail turned into something much more.

28. Truck Yeah ●

Truck Yeah is a two-way mountain bike trail offering some amazing connectivity within the trail system. Used as a gentle downhill or an easy climb to link up some of your favourite trails.

29. Spur Six ●

Older pre-existing double track. Use this section to access mid Truck Yeah when entering from the bottom up or as a green downhill connector to access Inorout/Ale Trail when riding down Truck Yeah.

30. Inner Piece ■

A true mountain bike trail of all mountain goodness. Inner Peace consists of short punchy ups and techy downs.

31. Retro-version ●

The trail takes off the current Subversion trail just before the main gully. It allows riders to access the Northern Traverse and Swift Mtn Trails without having to use the Swift Mtn FSR.

32. Velodrome ■

A fast and flowy downhill option utilizing a small gully in the middle of an old cut block. A great option for those finishing up on the Northern Traverse or new Swift Mtn Trails and looking to head back to the valley bottom.

33. Sub-version ■

One of the original trails within the Bike Park. Subversion is a crucial access point to the north side of our trail system. Old school feeling, hand built singletrack.

34. The Craig ■

Built with a hybrid of machine and hand building techniques to create a truly amazing experience. The trail is named after our fallen friend Everett Craig. Everett was a true supporter of the trail system and encouraged others to do the same whenever possible. You will find a special feature on this trail that is just as unique as he was.

35. State of Grace ■

A dual direction pedal trail offers a more traditional trail feel. This is an enjoyable trail with moderate climbs and some flowy descents no matter which direction you choose to start from.

36. Catalina Wine Mixer ■

This trail is a mix of hand and machine building designed to have a more traditional DH trail feel. Mixed with New Maserati, you have one epic downhill run.

37. Confused and Lonely ■

Offers an enjoyable and sometimes punchy climb into the upper trails or a great descent down from the top.

38. New Maserati ◆

A hybrid of hand and machine building, this trail is designed to have a more “old school” downhill trail feel to it. A great option for a gravity oriented early out from Plaid Shirt

39. Hit the Brakes ■

This “early out” option allows riders a downhill experience after pedaling from either direction on Plaid Shirt. This is a hybrid-meaning a mix of machine and hand building techniques.

40. Rosie Cheeks ●

A fun connector trail between Connection, Miserable and Magical or Confused and Lonely. Depending on your direction, this could be an early out or alternate route to mix and match the area’s trails. It also works as a great climb into the network from the Green Mile.

41. Connection ●

Looking to make it your ride short and sweet? Feeling the burn from the climb? Used as an early out from Plaid Shirt or a climb in from the FSR access road and Rosie Cheeks.

42. Plaid Shirt ●

This dual direction pedal trail offers amazing views of the Westridge and Premier Mountain range. This trail provides a few options to shorten up the ride via "Hit the Brakes" or "Connection" or get the full experience by completing the entire loop. No matter which end you start from, the north or south, you will begin with a good climb and end with a flowy descent.

43. Top Shelf ■

A hybrid of hand and machine building techniques, this tech trail is a mix of punchy climbs, quick downs and beautiful views of the valley. Best run from the south to the north unless you are an ebike master.

44. Disconnect ●

A short connector trail connecting the pre-existing bike park trails over to the newest trails at the base of Swift Mtn.

45. Green Mile ●

A dual direction trail flowing its way through the forest. The Green Mile is a great option for beginner riders. If entering from the south, you can make a short loop out of it by utilizing the Lower Blue South to return to the trailhead or go for a long pedal adventure by hitting up Confused and Lonely or Rosie Cheeks on the north end.

46. Casually Cool ●

A dual direction pedal trail winding its way through old and new cut blocks. This is a great option to mix up your ride on the Northern Traverse or to enter or exit the cross-country trail network.

47. To the Top ■

A short out from Plaid Shirt to the south end, and main access point of the Top Shelf trail.

48. Miserable and Magical ●

Used for a "miserable" (it's actually pretty easy and fun) climb while accessed from the lower north side or a "magical" descent after climbing your way up Plaid Shirt, M&M winds its way through a brand-new cut block offering unobstructed views of the Westridge and Premier Mountain range.

49. Ditch The Scene ●

A dual direction connector trail used for access to and from the Northern Traverse and Swift Mtn FSR. Also provides access to the Velodrome DH trailhead.

50. Rock n Roll ●

Used as an access or exit point, Rock N Roll is a flowy piece of trail that will leave you smiling as you begin to finish your pedal adventure.

51. Conversion ■

An old-school single-track access trail from the far end of Main St.

52. Tyrannosaurus Rock (T-Rock) ●

Named by a local grade 5 student, T-Rock is a true green downhill trail designed for the newest of mountain bike riders. It flows gently down the mountain for nearly two kilometers before terminating at the main staging area. No surprises await, just relax, and enjoy the flow!

53. Womp Rat ◆

Womp Rat is 2km of tech, flow and features. Designed to have a more traditional feel, the rider will still find the odd bit of flow here and there which creates one amazing ride. There are a few mandatory drop features and one amazing balance feature that will be sure to test your skills.

54. Zen Garden ■

The vision of a couple passionate locals, the Zen Garden will take you to a very special place. A trail winding through an interior cedar forest as it tightly snakes its way downhill crossing over a meandering creek nine times. Hike or Bike, this trail will make you feel good.

55. Shake It Off ◆

Located at the far north end of Plaid Shirt, no matter how you get there, this trail will reward you with a spicy downhill experience. Highlighted by several gully features, this is one trail that must be on your list.

56. Hits Different ■

The goal here was to bring a bit of flow over to the Swift network. With a mix of flow and tech, this trail has something for everyone.

FALL ITINERARIES

A person wearing a blue hoodie and a brown beanie is seen from behind, looking out over a vast, scenic landscape. The foreground is filled with dense evergreen trees. The middle ground shows a wide expanse of forest with patches of yellow and orange foliage, suggesting autumn. In the distance, rolling hills and mountains are visible under a clear blue sky. A small town or village is nestled in the valley below. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and scenic.

Fall

Day 1:

Every year, the Chinook salmon swim upstream over 1000 kms back to the Robson Valley for the salmon spawn. Take a stroll down from the visitor centre to the viewing platform at Swift Creek, or drive out to Rearguard Falls to witness the rare act of salmon jumping up the falls in order to reach their final destination, Overlander Falls. Approximately mid-August to mid-September.

Day 2:

Take in the amazing mountain scenery while practicing your swing at the golf course. Golf carts are available, but with views this picturesque, you may just want to walk the course.

Day 3:

Embrace your competitive side by entering the annual Fishing Derby at Kinbasket Lake on the September long weekend. Fishers from all over take to the water to see who can claim the title of biggest catch.

Day 4:

Take a drive down the Dunster-Croyden Road past the historic ruins of old Tete Jaune Cache, the initial settlement of the area. Enjoy the stunning oranges and yellows of fall colours lining the sides of the road. Stop by the Dunster General Store for a snack and to meet some locals.

Day 5:

If visiting during late August, participate in the annual Mt. Terry Fox Trek. Explore the trail to one of the most spectacular views in the valley, while raising money for cancer. There are 3 different route options, from beginner to experienced.

Winter

Day 1:

Revel in the magic of Mount Robson covered in snow. Bring your snowshoes or cross-country skis so you can experience the Berg Lake Trail in a completely different way. 4.5 km later, you'll be rewarded with views of the stunning Kinney Lake.

Day 2:

Travel in a winter wonderland by dog sled. Feel the icy winds of winter rush past as you stay cozy and bundled up in the sled. Take turns driving the dogs for a once-and-a lifetime experience.

Day 3:

When someone mentions winter in Valemount, one of the first words that comes to mind is "snowmobiling"- and for good reason. Valemount is home to several unique and expansive riding areas. Rent a snowmobile or take a guided tour for a day that will be on replay in your memory bank. Just make sure you're up to date on your AST (or book a refresher from the local provider).

Day 4:

Want to test your skating skills? Spend the afternoon on the ice at the Canoe Valley Recreation Centre where both hockey skates and figure skates are available to rent. If you have your own skates, enjoy beautiful mountain views as you glide along the frozen Cranberry Marsh.

Day 5:

If cross country skiing is more your style, you're in luck! With two separate ski areas, Valemount is the perfect place to stretch those legs. Between Valemount & Tete Jaune sits Jackman Flats, and just south of Valemount is the Camp Creek network.

Upper Westridge & Lower Family Loop

Cabin GPS Location: Lat. 52.825161 Lon. -119.347285

Check out the VARDA website to download a GPS file of the trail.

The Lower Family loop area is great for socked-in days or for a relaxed, casual, and enjoyable ride or family outing. The area is accessed by turning right off of the highway at the first intersection just south of town (3.5 km); then follow the road until you reach an open parking area at the beginning of the Westridge Forest Service Road.

A main family loop will bring you back to the parking lot and will pass a little warming cabin, roughly half way through the loop. Follow the FSR (forest service road) for approximately 10 km until you see a directional sign that guides you off of the main FSR. Follow this road for another few kilometres before it ends and puts you back onto the old snowmobile trail again. Once on the trail again, it will take you through the trees, passing the little warm-up shelter, and back to the valley bottom. That is the main "Family Loop" with some great low-level terrain to play in on bad weather days. At times, this area can be closed due to logging activities, so please check the website prior to planning any trips.

The area known as Upper Westridge holds some amazing alpine riding, but access is more for the intermediate rider. This area is accessed via the same staging area as the Family Loop. You follow the powerline over the CMH road and continue for 6 km. Then, you will turn right onto a steep single track trail. This will lead you to an alpine play area with a series of alpine bowls and spectacular scenery.
